

Dr. Haynes Collective

Welcome To The Dr. Haynes Collective

The Dr. Haynes Collective (DHC) is a carefully curated network of leading multidisciplinary expert coaches from diverse backgrounds. Together, we help you and your team tackle personal and professional challenges that restrict you from achieving optimal success and balance. We promote continual growth by providing to you the same coaching employed by top-level executives and elite athletes. Our goal is to remove a stigma often attached to those seeking support and guidance from trained multidisciplinary professionals on matters of finance, career, leadership, family and intimate relationships. Partner with the DHC to define your growth goals and propel yourself toward achieving them!

OUR FOUNDER

As a youth growing up in one of the world's oldest civilizations, Dr. Haynes learned to adapt to varied cultural norms to become a servant leader. At age 29, she earned her Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology. At 31, she earned a Post-Doctoral Fellowship at Georgetown School of Medicine and an invite to join to the Clinical Research Faculty. At 35, she was a tenured professor. And at 45, Dr. Haynes was recruited to Silicon Valley to join a leading venture capital firm with $650+ million under management that invested in 18+ game-changing unicorns. As Chief of Staff, she served on committees to track and research investments in Uber, Airbnb, Cue Health, Curology, Pill Pack, Doctors on Demand, Slack, Ipsy and Virgin Hyperloop One. She cultivated relationships with LP investors and portfolio founders to support continued long-term growth toward IPO. Additional endeavors include Founder, CEO, Chair, and COO roles with Pishavar Family Office, Pishavar Haynes Foundation, Bolt Mobility (with co-founder Usain Bolt) and the DHC. After serving on the UNICEF Steering Committee, Dr. Haynes joined the UNICEF Board of Directors in 2020.

Dr. Haynes is a tech entrepreneur, a philanthropist, an educator/professor, an activist, a community builder, a volunteer and a mother. She combines all of these varied disciplines, mindsets and strategies to collaborate with her Community, toward maximizing happiness and balance. And if you're an ambitious and value-driven individual or organization seeking to execute at the highest level, Dr. Haynes and her power-house Collective of leading experts can do the same for you!
